Foot Orthoses for schein flex Shoes

Orthotic treatment for patients suffering from Diabetic Foot Syndrome and rheumatism requires a thorough diagnosis to decide the correct material, its physical properties and medical compatibility.

Soft-foam multilayer foot orthoses

Sandwich-type constructed foot orthoses considering the individual pressure areas of the diabetic and rheumatic foot, designed with a supporting base layer to hold the neuropathically and/or osteopathically affected foot, to prevent further deformities and with a soft upper-layer specifying cushioning and bedding. All materials are skin-friendly.

schein flex Special-Prefabricated-Insoles

Thermoplastic EVA layers of 18° and 25° Shore A with intermediate reinforcement, without metatarsal pad, without top cover.
